Journeys Old and New: Sources and Methods in the Study of American Indians and Catholic Missions

Special guest lecture by Dr. Tracy Leavelle

Join Dr. Leavelle, Associate Dean for Humanities & Fine Arts and Associate Professor of History at Creighton University for an interactive presentation and discussion of the many ways technology and the Digital Humanities have changed—and have not changed—the ways that historians approach the study of Catholic missions and Native experiences.

Monday, February 5, 4:00-5:30pm
Lake Shore Campus, Cuneo Hall, Room 311

Co-sponsored by the Ramonat Seminar in American Catholic History and Culture & the Center for Textual Studies and Digital Humanities
