

Preparing people to lead extraordinary lives

Department of Anthropology Student Travel Award

Purpose: To support current students who are pursuing the dissemination of research that have not received money from the university's student research funding office (LUROP).

Deadlines: Applications due October 1 and March 1 for travel within the academic year. Deadlines are firm.

Eligibility: Anthropology (BA/BS) or Anthropology/Sociology MAJORS. Preference may be given to students who have not previously won an award.

Basic Information:

Name:

Major:

Major GPA:

Rank:

Overall GPA:

Email:

Presentation Information:

Conference/meeting name:

Conference/meeting dates:

Conference/meeting location:

Conference/meeting level:

I am (select one):

Has your presentation been accepted? If not, please provide a timeline for a decision.

Presentation title:

What is your authorship level? (First author, second author, etc.):

If presenting a poster/paper, will you be the one making the presentation?:

How will attendance at this conference contribute to your future plans and professional development?

Abstract/Summary of your presentation (do not exceed 250 words):

Budget Request Information: Please note the Department may only be able to cover up to $250 of expenses. Please provide an itemized budget below, including actual or anticipated costs. This may include travel (airplane, train, bus), conference registration, and lodging (price per person, per night - please note that most students split rooms with roommates).

Please list any funding (with amount) you have received or applied for, for this research. If none, then please put "N/A" in the box.

Submission information: Email your completed application to Dr. Krueger (kkrueger4).