

College of Arts & Sciences and Department of Mathematics & Statistics invite you to

Knitting & Math

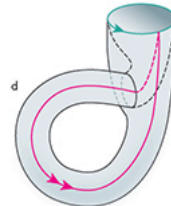

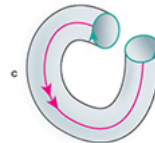

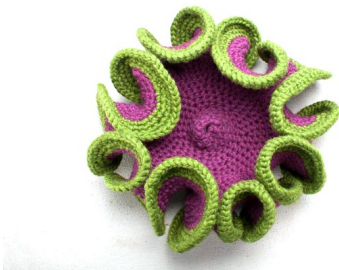

Emily Peters, Professor of Mathematics, Loyola University Chicago

Come learn to knit and/or crochet with members of the Math/Stat community. During the event, Professor Emily Peters will be giving a fun presentation about the connections between knitting/crocheting and math. Needles, yarn, pizza, and snacks will be provided. All students and faculty are welcome.

Thursday, November 8, 2018

Event:
6:00 - 8:00 pm

IES 123
Lake Shore Campus

For further details, contact the organizer:
Emily Peters, epeters3@luc.edu

Preparing people to lead extraordinary lives